

VALUES

We value our community, our meaningful connections and our lasting friendships with individuals, groups and organisations who share our vision and values; we look out for each other.

We value our role in being able to support the work of other people, groups and projects. We know we cannot realise our vision alone. When we build up and support others, it benefits us all.

We demonstrate integrity in everything we say and do. It is through our integrity that we establish ourselves as a leader in effecting cultural change.

We are proud of ourselves and of our community. No LGBTIQ+ person should have to fear violence or discrimination and we celebrate sexual diversity and gender variance with pride.

We value everyone in our team and we continually look for positive ways we can work together better. Living Proud has an open, collaborative team spirit and is a great place to work.

We share a common ground at Living Proud and we demonstrate a respect for the things that differentiate us from one another and make each of us unique.
